

Amber Lea Starfire

Author of Not the Mother I Remember

Thursday, January 23

7:00 p.m.

Napa Bookmine

964 Pearl St, Napa CA

www.napabookmine.com

Book Launch Party & Reading

The Book: Not the Mother I Remember

When Amber discovers boxes containing her mother's journals and letters, she realizes she's been given a rare chance to unlock the enigma that had been her mother—but will her mother's writing reveal the woman she remembers, or someone else altogether? Not the Mother I Remember tells the story of a sensitive girl raised by an exceptional and unconventional woman during a time of social change, gradually exposing the true nature of their relationship and their extraordinary bonds.

What They're Saying

"Honest, engaging, poignant, and beautifully, elegantly written..." ~ Susan Wittig Albert

"...the story of a modern-day Pandora who opens a box of trouble and sets herself free." ~ Susan Bono

"A stunning literary feat many of us only dream of attempting...a book you won't soon forget." ~ Rebecca Lawton

"...an ingenious approach to exploring a fascinating and complicated mother-daughter relationship ... full of power and revelation." ~ Frances Lefkowitz

amber@amberstarfire.com

www.amberstarfire.com